

“Journal Editor”

Mary

*University of Notre Dame
Fresh Writing Program*

About Mary

Mary has lived in the South Bend area all her life and comes from a family full of Notre Dame grads and fans. She owns a house and lives with her husband of two years. In her spare time she writes for multiple blogs. She enjoys “tinkering” with computer programs and websites - she considers herself an advanced computer user.

Background

Mary is a journal editor for an annual publication of writing samples from Notre Dame freshmen. The “Fresh Writing” program has been in print for ten years but she is interested in making it more multi-media.

Primary Use

Mary is primarily interested in preserving and providing online access to the journals and short videos. Because of copyright restrictions she needs to be able to restrict access to specific user groups.

Summary of goals

- Current goal – Store materials as a collection for preservation
- Future goals – Be able to have a public face which feeds materials from the IR
- Set restrictions to materials – by user lists, campus-only access, and effective dates
