

“Art Historian Professor”

Dr. Hampton, Ph.D.

*University of Notre Dame
Department of Arts*

About Dr. Hampton

Dr. Hampton is originally from New York and attended art school in New York City. In 1992, he and his wife were offered faculty positions at Notre Dame, so they moved into an old Victorian house in the historic district of South Bend. In his spare time he loves to visit museums and has a particular interest in Renaissance and Baroque art. He is a novice computer user and mostly uses it for email or his ND personal web space.

Background

Dr. Hampton is planning to retire this year. He authors a webpage on “Career alternatives for art historians” which is hosted in his personal ND web space but would like to move to a more long-term space. He is also interested in public access for teaching and research purposes.

Primary Use

Dr. Hampton is interested in providing public access to his collection of articles and visual materials.

Summary of goals

- Move his Career Alternatives webpage from his personal space
- Archive visual materials
- Provide public access for teaching and research purposes
